BREWSTER-()

From Brewster Gen. p. 2: In an affidavit made at Leyden, June 25, 1609, Elder Brewster, his wife Mary and son Jonathan declare their ages to be, respectively, 42, 40, and 16.

Notes from Hunter's Collections (someone verify) concerning founders of New England: Elder

William Brewster, 1567-1644. William Brewster's wife Mary thought to have been daughter of Thomas Wentworth. William Brewster and wife Prudence, parents of Elder Brewster.

No. 4743-M. B. R. June 10, 1939. Brewster. Ref. to query by B.L.B. in the answer by Aksarben, as to name of wife of William Brewster, submits this data: "William Brewster of Rushmore in Suffolk, Eng., in Henry 6th time, mar. Mary, dau. of Wm. Harby, Esq. of Hilton, Suffolk, and had issue" Visitation of Suffolk, 1612, p. 117. E. M. G. (B.L.B. asked if she was Mary Love, the son Love having been given her family name.)

Henry VI. reigned about 1425. William Brewster and wife Mary Harby might have been gr.-gr.-parents of Elder Brewster.

It is doubtful if Mary Brewster's maiden name was Love, as a family of that name, fairly prominent in that time, were royalists; one member, was executed Aug. 22 1651 for connection with an insurrection.

William Brewster was private secretary to Sir William Davison, was with him in Holland, later in London when Davison received the order from Queen Elizabeth for the execution of Mary, Queen of Scots, in 1587, in which year Davison's public career ended and Brewster returned to Scrooby. Brewster may have met and married Mary in London. Their first child, Jonathan, was born in Scrooby August 12, 1593.

During that period there flourished in England a society called the Family of Love, with many followers, 5,000 in London alone, with which the Brewsters may have been identified.

Could Mary Brewster have been the daughter of the fiery and patriotic Puritan, Peter Wentworth, member of Parliament and prisoner in the Tower where both he and his wife died in the 1590's? This is a possibility. Being a descendant of Jonathan Brewster the writer has made considerable investigation as to Mary's parentage. On a visit to Scrooby, England, 1930, I learned the old records were burned many years ago.

My dear Mr. Freeman:-

Your letter of the 21st inst. has been received and thank you for it.

The tracing of family lineages is simply a matter of searching records and these vary all the way from being non-existent or inaccurate to appearing at once and in good form. Because of this, I ask the client to advance such sum of money as he may be willing to spend for beginning the investigation, and I do all that is possible for the amount sent and make a report. It is then at your discretion to go as far as you may wish on the same basis. Fifteen to twenty-five dollars is a customary deposit and I charge at the rate of two dollars an hour.

Of course it is not possible to guarantee the result as I am at the mercy of the records, but I do guarantee faithful search and an accurate report.

With regard to the question you ask about the authenticity of my findings, would say that in connection with all data given, reference is made to the book or books, with page, from which the information is taken; and I never intend to quote or use material which is not regarded as authentic.

Dear Ray;

I was both surprised and glad to hear from you. Glad you and Mother are in good health. I am afraid I cannot add much to your findings re. the Freeman ancestors. I remember Mrs. Firman, (Will's mother) saying that her mother's maiden name was Temperance White and her home in Vermont. I cannot even recall the name of the town where she lived. So I am afraid I cannot help you. Florence does not seem to know any more either but when I see her again I mention to her about your search for knowledge and may be if she has any old letters they might be helpful. However

Town Clerk,
Hanover,
Grafton County,
N.H.

Dear Sir,

In trying to obtain some trace of my people, who came here from the United States, I have been able to learn from the War Department at Washington, that they might have lived in Hanover. I am, therefore, writing you, to see if any of your records would show the particulars regarding the family.

The only members of the family about whom I have ever heard are - my grandfather, Sylvanus Freeman and his two brothers, Ethen and Jesse. The war records show, that Ethen Freeman, at the age of nineteen, joined the army as private in the 25th. U.S. Infantry (Capt. Edward White) for the war, on Jan. 7th., 1813 at Woodstock and was discharged May 17th. 1815 th. at Sackett's Harbor, by reason of expiration of term of service. He was born in Hanover, N.H. and was a clothier by occupation. The 25th. infantry became the 6th. U.S. Infantry after May 16th. 1815. I know also, that my Grandfather's wife, in the States, was a White and died there before he came to Canada. He was a younger brother, born, I believe, in 1800.

I am unable to find any record of Sylvanus Freeman upon our town records.
I find record of Jonathan. Edmund, Elisha. Otis. Elijah & Jonathan Freeman 20.
Perhaps if you should write to Register of Deeds or Registrar of Probate Woodsville, N.H. you would get some information. George M. Bridgman Town Clerk of Hanover, N.H.

It looks to me like a possible relationship between the Captain White and his wife. The Whites and Freeman's, possibly, are old Hanover names.

Ethen Freeman was born then, about 1794 and no doubt the records of births, Marriages and deaths would show records of this family. If I am not applying to the proper source for this information, perhaps you would be kind enough to let me know where the data may be found.

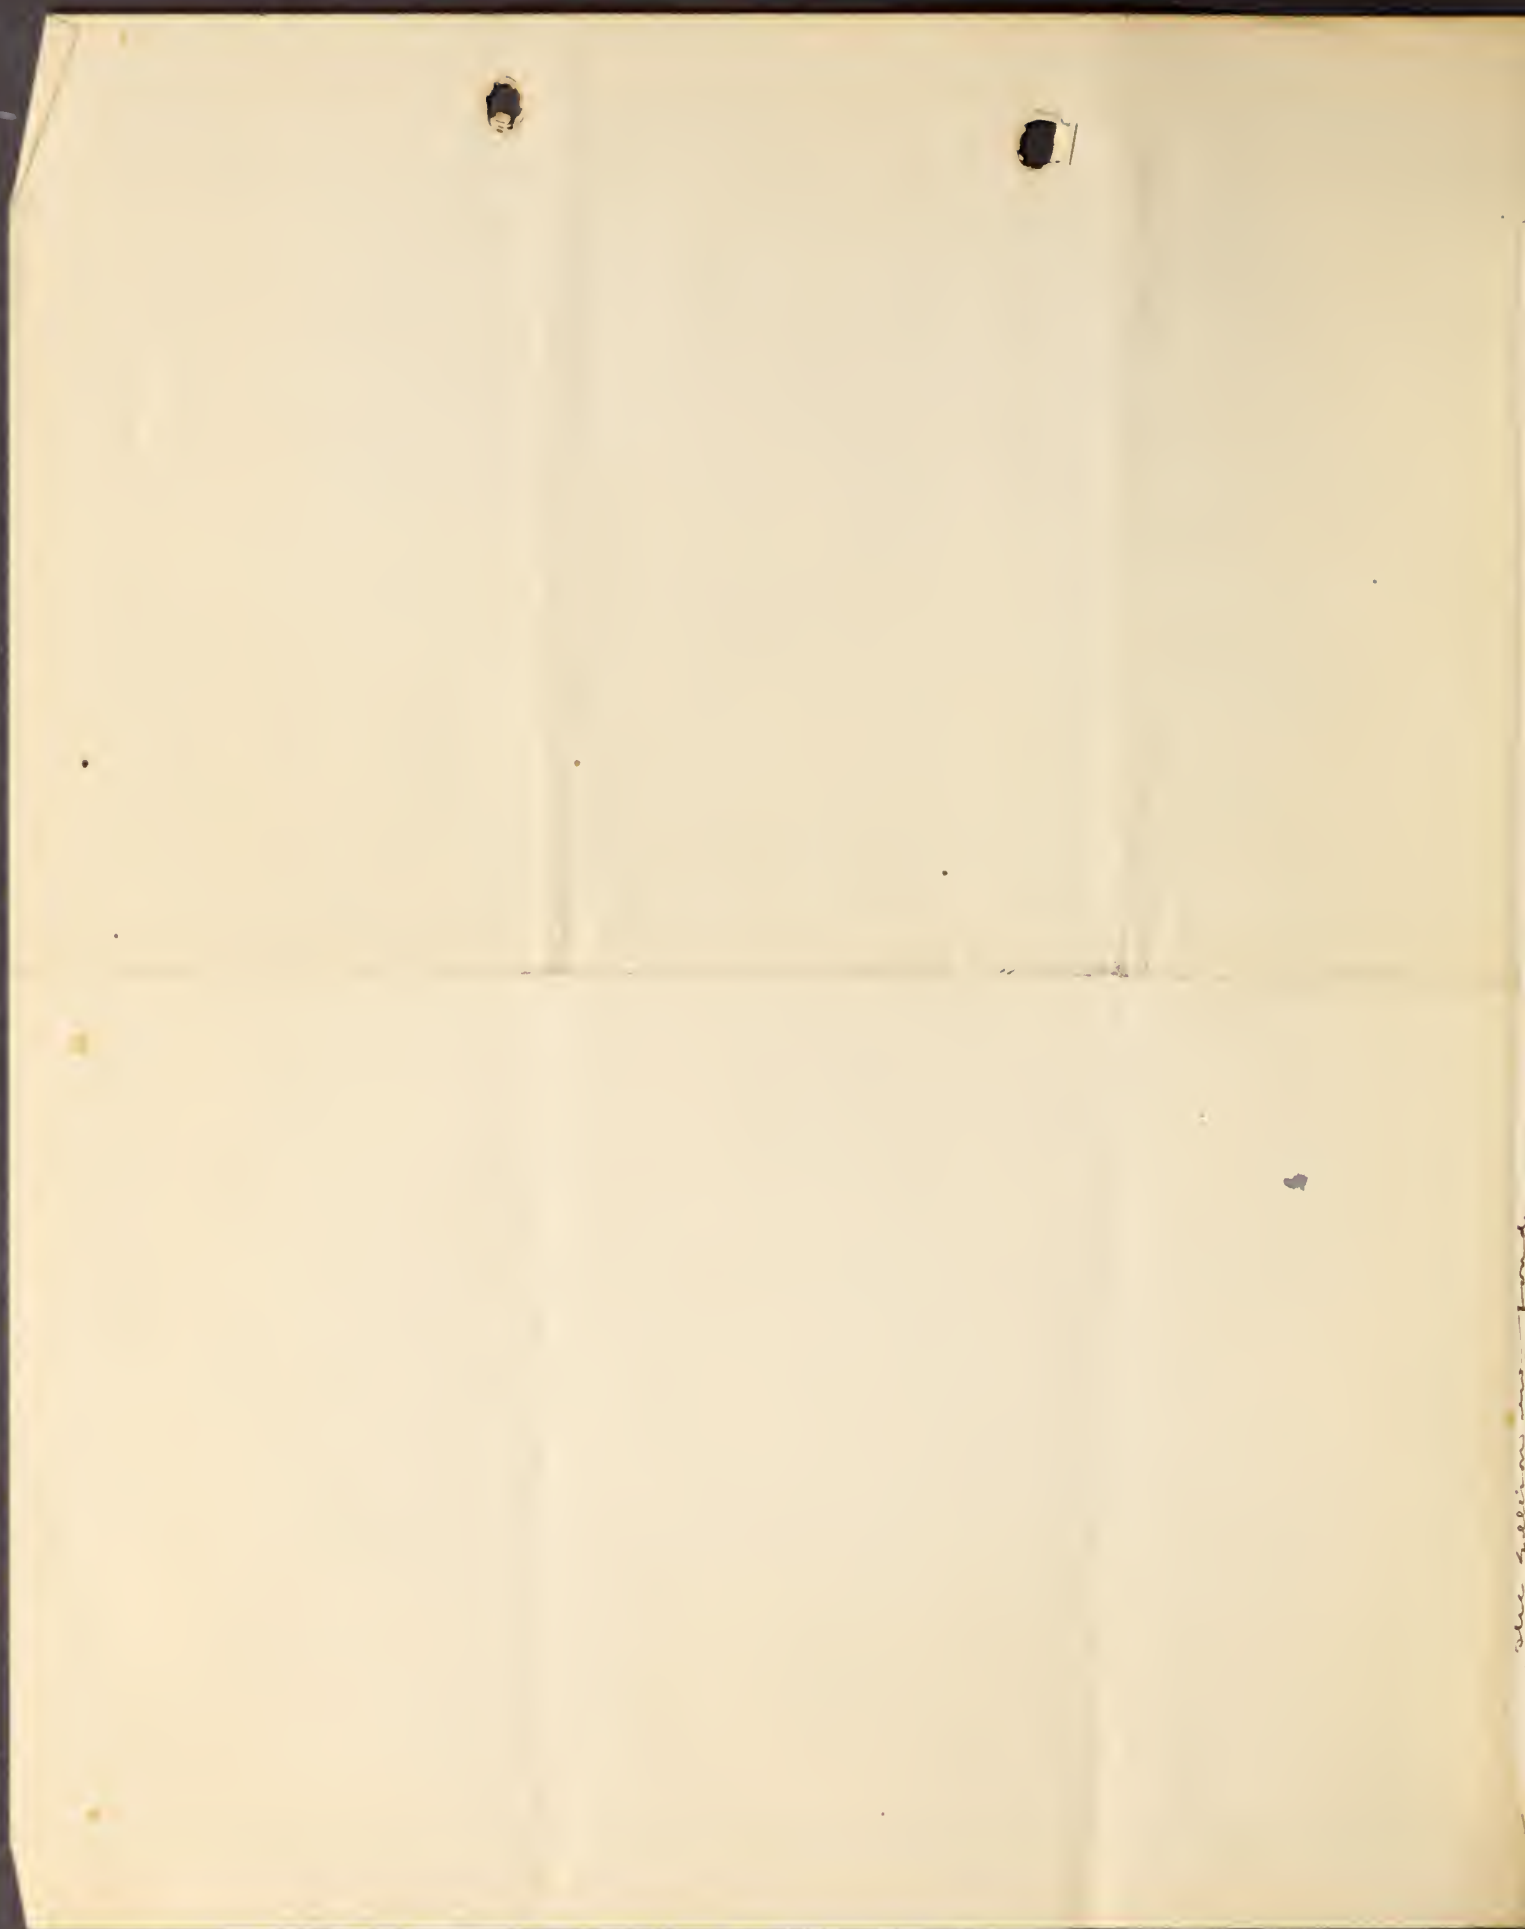

There is a likelihood, that old residents of your town would know something about the businesses of bygone days and, if Ethen was a clothier, there might be something about Hanover to recall the family members.

Any attention given to this enquiry by you, sir, would be appreciated a great deal. You might hand my letter to any one of the name, if such there be, and whom you think would care to take an interest in a reply.

Thanking you in advance, I am

Yours truly,

Dear Ray,

I have just had a notion to write to you. Mrs. L. is out visiting to-day and I am alone. Intended to visit Brighton but kept putting the visit off as I had to give up my car. And thinking about it I do not know many there now except yourself. All my second cousins are unknown to me. Do you remember ~~B~~ Rebecca Talmadge. She married a man called Wadsworth and went west. Her son became Clerk of Town of Kenosha and I did not discover it until I left there in 1951. Rebecca died last year. You told me out of us Ray was gone. How many children did he have and who and where are they. I have lost track of Scott, & Harry Hutchinson and all, as I was away so long. I had one son - Beverly by my first wife, now gone. He had one son & two girls William, Marlain, and freely with whom

William is in Calypso, Maine Maine
 3 sons in New Brunswick, and Jocelyn in Winnipeg. That is all my family. I married again - my wife's name is Edna. We are both well, my wife much younger than I am. I will be 88 on May 20th and I guess will have to stay put here at Port Hues as I cannot get around very well.
 I would like to visit Brighton and especially my father and mother's graves in Cemetery. Provided for their up-keep but would like to see. If you happen to be in Cemetery and any time would you visit them as you know where their last resting place is. I expect every thing is well but would like to know.
 We like Port Hues. The climate is out of here - never below zero, and nearly all the time quite mild very little snow. It is however difficult when you are out of business to get acquainted. Belong to Masons, Chapter etc and they are very good. Get acquainted with many as the Masons call for me and take me to their meetings. I am a worshipful Master also which helps.
 Well. May, hope you can read this. Will be delighted to hear from you. Tell me about some of my relatives. Most sincerely yours

WENTWORTH COAT-OF-ARMS

By MABEL LOUISE KEECH

Wentworth

ONE day came a large envelope in the mail, containing a photograph of a fine looking gentleman, a photograph of a Coat-of-Arms, and a notice of the dates to see the Tax Collector! No letter—just a note asking for the return of the Coat-of-Arms photo when through with it. No doubt this was for me to use for HOBBIES, for which I was grateful, as material from readers is always welcome. And as the Arms had been carved in marble, and also as it was one of my own family, interest ran high.

Therefore correspondence between us was next in order, and here are the stories.

T. T. Wentworth, Jr., of Pensacola, Fla., was the thoughtful new friend, and his friend, Alfred Davis, is the artist in stone, the photograph of whose work we see here. He carved this as a token of friendship, and it is now in the Dorothy Walton Museum in Pensacola of which Mr. Wentworth is a director.

The Coat-of-Arms is carved from a piece of pure white Alabama marble, 8"x16" and mounted on a piece of pure black Belgian marble, 11"x19½".

Mr. Davis is well known as a stone and marble contractor and artisan, all over the country. Among his masterpieces are the post offices in Casper, Wyo., Nogales, Ariz., and Battle Creek, Mich.; banks in Madison and Milwaukee, Wis., Cincinnati, and Detroit; Custom House in Niagara Falls; and the Woodward Ave. Presbyterian Church in Detroit, all the carving of which he executed personally. Many residences are beautified with his workmanship, and we are happy indeed to have a reproduction of his artistry to show "Hobbies" readers.

THE COAT-OF-ARMS

DESCRIPTION

Sable a chevron between three leopards' faces or. Crest—A griffin passant, wings elevated, argent. Motto—En Dieu est tout.

Translated into non-Heraldic terms—A black (sable) shield, on which is charged a gold (or) chevron, between three gold (or) leopards' faces. Color-names are not repeated, therefore we know both chevron and leopards' faces are of gold. The crest is a griffin standing with right paw raised (passant) with wings elevated, and is silver (argent) in color.

This carving is not in color-code, so the colors have to be found in the records. It is copied from the Wentworth Genealogy, and, as you see, has no mantling or helmet, and rather a flowery edge for a practical shield. However, the symbols are there, and correct, and the workmanship is most excellent.

Interpretation

The chevron, "likened unto the roof of a house," is emblematical of one who protects defenseless people, and granted to one who has achieved some notable enterprise. It has often been granted to one who has built a church, or a fortress, and in so doing, accomplished a work of faithful service.

The leopard symbolizes far-sightedness. His spots represent the eyes of Providence, looking in every direction. Part of a figure has the same significance as the whole. In the case of a leopard, the face only is the usual way of presenting it, and sometimes it is pictured with flames coming from its mouth. The leopard is occasionally used as the supporter of the shield. The "leopard's head passant", or swallowing a fleur-de-lis, was conferred by Edward III during his wars with France, to his victorious leaders, the idea of the device being that the lion of England had swallowed the lily of France. The lion of the British Arms had been derived from the leopard in that of Richard I.

Recently we told the story of the griffin—but will repeat briefly: The natives of India had warned the English explorers that a beast with head of a wolf, beak, talons, and wings of an eagle, body of a lion, and 8 times its size, guarded their mountains, and that no precious stones or minerals could be taken from them. Although the English laughed at the superstition, they took home the idea, and thereafter, carved on their banks, and granted to financial experts, this "guardian of the treasure", the monster—the griffin.

Colors are representative of the first bearer's personal characteristics, and are grants of merit. Sable, the fur lining of royal robes, signifies nobility and constancy; gold, generosity and elevation of mind; silver, sincerity.

The motto—"En Dieu est tout", is translated "In God is all."

Family History

According to "Domesday Book", William the Conqueror's census, Rynold de Wynterwade lived in 1066. His son spelled his name Wyntwood. And in a few generations, it became "Wentworth"!

The family has always been one of importance in England. The titles of Marquis, Viscount, Earl, Baronet, have for centuries passed from generation to generation, and the old Wentworth Castle, in County York, 9 miles from Sheffield, and 13 miles from Doncaster, is famed as having been the focal point of many an historic event.

Sir Thomas Wentworth, Baronet, Earl of Strafford, occupied the castle in 1640, and the Earl Fitzwilliams, having been a descendant through his mother's line, now occupies the ancient landmark. He gave, to a descendant in this country, a Van Dyck painting of the Earl of Strafford.

The Earl was not a direct ancestor, but a contemporary, in the family, of Elder William Wentworth, the first of the name in this country.

From Elder William, most, if not all, of the Wentworths in this country are descended.

The Genealogy states that the "first indubitable evidence" of his living in this country is his signature to a petition for a settlement in Exeter, N. H., July 4, 1637. He died in Dover, N. H., in 1697. Although not an ordained minister, as an elder, he substituted for a minister for many years, and was active in all civic and religious affairs in the community.

One branch of the family moved a bit farther south, each generation—New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Florida. In this line is Theodore Wentworth, Jr., who made this article possible.

From "The Story of Florida" by W. T. Cash, 1938, we glean a few of many interesting facts about this member of the family. He has, as have many of his family before him, linked himself with the furthering of community enterprises. He is a historian of national repute, among his writings many articles on local history and a book on the History of Pensacola. Every week he gives a talk at the local radio station on the various aspects of the history of different parts of Florida. His historical collection is one of the most complete in the state, and his collection of stamps and coins is also outstanding.

Another interesting personage among the descendants of Elder Williams, is Mrs. E. W. Williamson, whose beautiful home is located less than two blocks from me in Evanston. The spending of several hours in studying and admiring this home, furnished in antiques, has been my privilege, and it is indeed an education to hear her tell the stories of these quaint and most unusual pieces of glass, china and silver, all of which she shares with her guests as they come and go. The home was rebuilt and redecorated according to the plans of Dr. and Mrs. Williamson (the Dr., an eminent surgeon, also being a collector), to house most perfectly their rare findings. Many pieces were originally in the early Wentworth family homes, and now many of the sets of dishes have been finished after many hours of searching.

Doubtless reports of other interesting "Wentworths" will be brought to our attention after this article appears, but even if we knew beforehand each month the many splendid people bearing the name chosen, it would be, of course, impossible, even to mention them. But, each person will have an innate and a justifiable pride in seeing his or her family name appear. We know this, from the scores of letters received.

Who is next? We do not even know. Do you?

(Will Minnie F. Sartor please write us again?)

NOTES FOR SEARCHERS

NOTE 23. SPELLING OF NAMES.

Many searchers are confused because of the different spelling of surnames—yes, and Christian names. This is not surprising. But we should not take different spellings too seriously.

Sometimes in a legal document a man has spelled his own name two, even three different ways! Such errors are due to several reasons: Many of our ancestors were deprived of the privileges of advanced education; clerks and other recorders often spelled phonetically—perhaps they were not well educated, misunderstood the person, or were hurried, as in recording soldiers filing past the desk; poor writing was copied wrong—or even good writing.

Let us cite a few examples: Clark, Clarke; Hill, Hills; Meredith, Merideth; Thomson, Thompson; Steuart, Stewart; Mosely, Mosley, Moseley. I think I have mentioned the 36 spellings I found of the Gaillard name, in one search. Gaylord is the most familiar in this country now—McGilliard is one.

Someone may say to me that perhaps there will not be so much difficulty in tracing his name because of the unusual way in which it is spelled. And yet we find few printed references to the name, because one person has decided to make the change, and only his line, perhaps not all of his own descendants, continued as he started.

You may have heard a person say emphatically—"With the 'e' please" or, "We spell our name with 2 'ts'". But if he would trace his family only a few generations, perhaps only two, he would find another spelling.

Therefore, in searching, if having difficulties, look for all spellings of the names. Localities, dates, and family first names are the most definite means of establishing the connection.

CREST CORNER

Just to show the perversity of humankind—the "Crest Corner Vacation" of February, the wisdom of which was doubted by both the editor and myself, has brought more response than any other one feature in these two years! As it has always been hard for me to keep serious for long at a time, perhaps this is a test that to deviate occasionally does no harm.

This week I talked to a group of about 30 boys and girls of the 6th grade, studying Medieval History. My invitation came from one of the boys who had chosen "Heraldry" as his project. I went to the school (Oakton, in Evanston), finding the class splendidly prepared.

Their assembly hall had splendid paintings of knights, castles, banners, coats-of-arms, gorgeous costumes, so the children had already had this influence. But when my guest and I reached the room, not only we two, but parents who had been invited, were met by a committee who showed us chairs, and a place to leave our wraps, and a little later, guided us about the room. Our guides explained to us how they had collected the pictures of medieval days; painted and drawn helmets and shields; written "reports" on the various sub-divisions of the subject; and even molded objects from clay. The most outstanding piece of work was a painting of a banquet—men in medieval costume, the butlers in service, a boar's head on the platter in the center of the board.

When we assembled in the little lecture room, the boy who had sent the invitation was ready to run the stereopticon lantern, one of the girls introduced me, and all were alert, ready for the pictures. How easy, how inspiring to talk to such a group. They had asked me for an hour, which I had thought too long, but there was no restlessness during the 40 minutes with the slides. There was a good story about a boar's head, and one or two other hair-raising fabulous stories to give them a bit of excitement; but also examples of the correct way to emblazon Coats-of-Arms, so that when the discussion came afterwards, they spoke of one or two errors they had made in their own drawings. Crusader, Mayflower, Washington, family—all kinds of Coats-of-Arms for them to learn about.

Often in lectures, and perhaps in some "Crest Corner" I have mentioned that I thought boys and girls should be taught by their parents the part their own ancestors played in the forming of the nation's history—and in our country now, this might mean of some lands across seas. A good example of this was evident that day. One little girl during the question-asking time, and chance for them to talk, said that her mother had told her she was a descendant of John and Priscilla (Mullins) Alden, and the others all showed an interest by speaking up "Came on the Mayflower", etc.—and she had just seen those two armorial bearings on the screen. There was no false pride, just a real joy, justifiable, and the others sharing it. This is what I contend creates a new interest in history.

This class was a fine example of what can be accomplished by a teacher in giving the pupils in a natural way, in connection with their history studies, a glimpse into those days of chivalry with its accompanying pageantry, and to lead them into a knowledge also of the influence of the lives of their own families, in days long past.

We refer teachers, reading this, to the August 1939 issue, the whole article having been written for you.

Pride, shame and plain perversity.
He is preoccupied with graves,

Too bad this line is genuine—Thought it began with Peregrine!).

"It's a Small World"

Mrs. James Leake Stirling, Louisiana, recently ran an ad in another department of HOBBIES and as a result found a relative. She writes: "As a result of our ad a lady from Texas wrote me for information concerning the Audubon Pilgrimage to be held in this parish, and mentioned that her husband was a descendant of the Alston family of North Carolina, and wasn't my husband from that line also. Of course he is, and we are very glad to have made the contact. As my husband is preparing for publication a mss. on the 'Stirling and Related Families,' this will enable him to fill in some gaps in that line. It was such an odd thing, I thought you might be interested in knowing that an ad in HOBBIES found a relative for the advertiser."

Lincoln Contest

As part of its fiftieth celebration, the Lincoln Memorial University at Harrogate, Tenn., is offering two prize scholarships to the high school seniors who write the best 1,000 word essays on the subject: "A Student Looks at 'ABE LINCOLN IN ILLINOIS'." The first prize will be a four year scholarship covering room, board and tuition; the second will be a four year scholarship covering one-half these expenses. The contest closes June 15. The winners will be expected to conform to the work program of the university and fulfill the requirements for admission. The judges will be Robert E. Sherwood, Dr. Stewart W. McClelland, President of Lincoln Memorial University; Robert L. Kincaid, Vice-President, R. Gerald McMurtry, Professor of Lincolniana, and H. E. Barker, Archivist of the Lincoln Association of Southern California.

As an aid to the appreciation and discussion of "ABE LINCOLN IN ILLINOIS", two study guides are available, one published by Educational & Recreational Guides, 1501 Broadway, New York, the other by Film Guide, Taft Bldg., Hollywood, Calif.

Coronado Celebration Planned

Lyons, Kan., in the heart of Coronado's Kingdom of Quivara (1541), is planning a Coronado Cuarto Centennial celebration for 1941. Horace Jones, chairman of the general committee, has already named committees of five separate groups as follows: Benefit Performances, H. H. Houston; Spanish Music and Customs, Mrs. L. W. Teall; Church History, Mrs. J. M. Desemo; Spanish-Indian Museum, A. W. Volkmann; Indian Village, R. J. Edwards; Spanish Costuming, Miss Mary Alice Jones. Committees for other branches of the celebration are to be announced later.

Woman's College Hobby Show

Keuka College, Keuka Park, N. Y., a woman's college, recently chalked up its second hobby show. First prize went to Doris Flodin for her collection of 52 pairs of shoes, mostly china. A collection of Indian crafts and pictures of Indian life gained second prize for student, Minnie Dolson. An intensely interesting part of the show was Dean Owing's collection of Religious Arts and Crafts which she has collected because of her interest in the subject.

Dear Sir:

On July 3, 1941, The Star ran a news item from London about the London churches being blitzed. One paragraph said: "All Hallows by The Tower, parts of which date back to Norman times, has been heavily damaged".

On June 3, 1947, The Telegram had an article about LONDON DIOCESE RE-BUILDING 31 WAR-SCARRED CHURCHES. It summarized in part a booklet entitled ORDEAL BY FIRE issued by an American Committee of the Reconstruction Fund. It said:

"All-Hallows-by-the-Tower stands a fire-torn roofless structure. On the fateful day the church received a deluge of incendiary bombs that destroyed the interior. Three weeks earlier a high explosive bomb had demolished the eastern wall of the chancel.

"All Hallows' is the Guild Church of Toc H, a movement whose common ideals of service and comradeship are well known to many Canadians. Veterans of the 1st World War will recall the work of T. Hot House, founded in Farningham by the Reverend P.P. (Tubby) Clayton, C.M.G., who since 1922 has been vicar of All Hallows'.

even upon a week-day festival, six priests have to be on duty there with simultaneous acts of communion divided beneath three separate roofs. They cannot house a tithe of those who wish to worship in All Hallows'. All the rest must stand out in the rain and take their turn. It is one of the few churches in the world where people queue up to pray!

"Founded in A.D. 675, on the frontier of the kingdom of Essex, All Hallows' rose upon the same site a thousand years before any stone above ground of St. Paul's Cathedral, six hundred years before Westminster Abbey. The Anglo-Saxon arch is foisted into Roman tesserae which formed a floor apparently of a ladies' hair-dressing establishment in the first London founded in A.D. 43 and burnt seventeen years later by Queen Boadicea.

"All Hallows' stands within bowshot of the Tower of London. It has witnessed the pageant of English history. The close proximity to the scaffold on Tower Hill caused many famous bodies to be brought for burial there, including Bishop Fisher, the Earl of Surrey, Archbishop Laud, and many other victims of the block.

"In 1666 two famous men saved All Hallows' with the aid of sailors when the Great Fire threatened the church by digging a ditch with gunpowder around the church. These were Samuel Pepys, Secretary to the Navy, and Admiral William Penn, father of William Penn of Pennsylvania."

Dear Sir:

Yours of the 15th I have and thank very much for all the data enclosed.

All the Hennessy names you mention
- are new to me except Amarilla. The others belong to another branch, no doubt, descendants of a brother or brothers of Richard Hennessy, my great-grandfather. It was Vallean who claimed ^{up} the connection last branch, and asked me to make I haven't as yet

Amarilla who married a Smith was a

Daniel was a son of Richard Hennessy

There is an Asa Tyler whose father was (now Mrs Sarah St. Peter, Pictou, whom you wrote to) but she did not marry John Leachdon Goslin, of Boston, but is married to Lon Hogle. They live in Pictou and Mrs St Peter lives most of her time with them.

Asa Wells of Canning Place married a Hannah Marsh, daughter of Col. W^m Marsh of Dorset Vt. and a sister to Maltais Marsh, my gr. gr. grandfather.
Col. W^m & Maltais were U. E. Ls.

It would like to know who the father was of Sarah Kemmiser 1788-1879, who married George Abbott. That is going back a long way. Possibly a sister of William 1797, the one I gave you the date of birth, but of course, may be some one else.
If Richard Kemmiser, my gr. gr. grandfather came from Vermont which is so stated in the Census & also told me by a Mr Black, Tutor, then James his brother no doubt came from Vermont. Have tried to find out more about them but as yet have been unsuccessful in doing so. My mother always said that Richard was an R. C.
when he married Sarah Kemmiser but left the R. C. Church after his marriage.
All of James Kemmiser's descendants however, were Protestants as far as the records show.

Saw Dan Hennessy, Labor Day at the Trenton Bus Port. I was asking him if he ever knew any Hennessy's living on the York Rd West of Trenton. - and he said not outside of Ike Hennessy, whose widow still lives there with a son.

ELSIE HILL IS BRIDE OF ALBERT HUBBARD

The marriage of Elsie Hill, youngest daughter of Mrs. Helena Hill and the late Frank Hill, to A.B. Albert James Hubbard, R.C.N.V.R., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Delia, Alta., was solemnized at the bride's home, Bain Ave., Feb. 3. Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong officiated. Mrs. Ruth Coward played wedding music. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ralph E. Hill, wore a white satin and net gown, styled with sweetheart neckline. Her Mary Queen of Scots headdress was arranged with a shoulder-length embroidered veil trimmed with sequins. She carried a bouquet of white 'mums, blue violets and blue iris. Mrs. Phyllis Henderson, her matron of honor, wore a blue taffeta frock, matching headdress, and carried a bouquet of white 'mums and pink roses. L.S. Ed. Hitchen, R.C.N.V.R., was best man. He and the groom recently returned from active service overseas.

new, musical version of his lengthy success, "Gone With the Wind." Since the original announcement was made, however, some consternation has been stirred up among the Negroes in the U.S., who look on the film with misgivings as presenting an unflattering interpretation of the American Negroes. They put it in a class with "Birth of a Nation" in its adverse effect upon the race. Whether Selznick will make the film in the face of these protests remains to be seen.

DEBUTS

Dighton, Ontario
Dec. 22, 1943.

Mr. Willis Freeman
712 Somonauk Street
Sycamore
Ill.

Dear Mr. Freeman,

At this Christmastide season, I am thinking of you and trusting that you may the true beauty of the coming day of festivity.

During the long silence in your correspondence, I have thought of you frequently. I do trust that you and your household are in good health and enjoying the passing days. These are trying times for all of us, but much greater are the trials of the thousands in war-torn countries. It is not appropriate for us to be 'sorry' when there is so much grief in this sad world, however, we have to carry on and face each new day with determination.

I regret that I have been unable to take an active part in the war, especially when I had prepared myself for the conflict. It was, to me, like a hand writing upon the wall, that a great struggle must come. Nevertheless, Fate ruled otherwise. Mother is still with me and celebrated her 97th birthday on the 15th of this month. I had no relative to be with her, so I have continued to do my duty here.

Genealogy has plodded along with some success in both the Freemans and the Rogers lines. The war has, as you may know, interfered a great deal with office help, who used to look up data and with those who used to write. Many have gone in some branch of the Service and do not have time for research. I was fortunate enough to find a couple of descendants of the Jesse Freeman line and have that completed, with the exception of a very few dates. Some of them drifted to Florida. As to the Hanover N. H. problem, I have improved the time there too, but have not identified Phebe Wentworth yet. I have a copy of Dr. Frost's findings on the family and have a friend trying to trace Phebe. Dartmouth College has been most kind to me. Recently, I joined the Frontier Genealogical Society of Niagara Falls, N.S.A. a new Society and a Miss Pettitt has been enquiring about Freemans in that district. This might be a clue for you, should you be interested.

Whenever, you feel like picking up the old threads, I shall be happy to hear from you, and in the meantime, I wish you the Season's Greetings and a Bragade 1944.

Very Sincerely,
W. R. Freeman.

County growers feel the time opportune for their annual meeting. Bruce Rutherford, president of the Tomato Growers' Association, has arranged for this on November 25th in Colborne Town Hall. At afternoon meetings the attendance has not been worthy of the organization, so it is this year planned to try convening at 8.00 p.m. Mr. A. T. Sirett of Brighton and Ronald Hyatt of Prince Edward County, who are members of the Ontario Board, will address the meeting and explain regulations and rulings in regard to the tomato crop.

The tomato crop is an important one to the county of Northumberland, as last year there were over 100 growers supplying the ten canning factories serving the district and, with a fairly satisfactory production, it is believed the tonnage will compare favorably. The farmers had difficulties in regard to the late, wet spring season and lack of help to produce the crop. Most canning factories faced wartime difficulties in their work but, in spite of all unfavorable factors, a very satisfactory supply of tomatoes was canned and should make a considerable contribution to the food supplies of our armed forces and civilian population in the coming winter.

As secretary, R. C. Banbury of Brighton, agricultural representative, is advising the growers and it is hoped they will make their meeting a worthwhile event in the planning of future activities.

BRIGHTON TWP. SPEAKER AWARDED FOURTH POSITION IN ORATORICAL CONTEST

At the Northumberland County Oratorical Contest held in Warkworth Town Hall on Friday evening, November 12th, seven contestants were heard.

Representing Percy Township were Donald Weatherson of the Senior School of Warkworth Public School, and Jean West of S.S. No. 3 & 29, Percy and Brighton, who won first and second places respectively in the Township Contest held in Warkworth School, on Wednesday evening, November 10th.

Every teacher present acted as a judge and the results were as follows: first prize and the President's cup were awarded to Miss Jean Phillips, S.S. No. 2 Haldimand, Mill Valley School, whose subject was "Your Home of Tomorrow";

GUNYO'S GROCERY SINCE 1899.

In the Ensign of December 29th 1899, under the caption "Freeman's old stand", there appeared the following advertising message to the public, over the signature of the late Alfred Gunyo. "Having purchased the grocery business and good-will of the late J. W. Freeman, we wish to call the attention of the public to the reduced prices on crockery and fancy china. All desirous of purchasing goods of this class will save money by calling at an early date as the whole is being offered at cost. Notwithstanding the cheapness of our goods, we have come to stay and solicit not only the patronage of Mr. Freeman's old customers but trust to see many new faces. Wishing all a happy New Year, I am, yours sincerely, Alf Gunyo."

In the news columns of that same issue there appeared the following item. "We are pleased to note that Mr. Alf Gunyo, a Brighton boy has purchased the good-will and grocery business of the late J. W. Freeman. Mr. Gunyo was traveller for the Brantford Bicycle Supply Company for over two years and for the past year was city manager for the Goold Bicycle Company of Hamilton. Having been twelve years in the grocery business, six years with Mr. J. W. Freeman and six years as manager for Mr. S. G. M. Nesbitt, Mr. Gunyo has had a long experience and with his energy and marked ability, will undoubtedly be successful in this new venture."

And so for almost forty-four years the name of A. Gunyo meant the grocer to the people of Brighton. When his son, Stuart, went into the business with his father and even since the latter's death the name of A. Gunyo & Son represented a retail grocery store in Brighton. Of recent years a wholesale business has also been conducted by the firm and now, since November thirteenth, the retail store has been closed and only a wholesale business is being operated. The long familiar windows of Gunyo's grocery store in Brighton have been painted over and for the first time in nearly forty-four years, the public cannot buy a pound of butter from Mr. Gunyo.

Warden Needs

Chief Air Raid Warden Charles A. Welch now has some 3,500 wardens. He needs "at least 6,000."

One of the westest sections is the East Side. Here, according to Mr. Welch, there are only some 50 or 60 wardens, where there should be 200.

Mr. W. R. Freeman

My dear Mr. Freeman:

This replies to your letter of June 25. Our assistant reports that the birth of Sylvanus Freeman, August 10, 1759, is recorded in the published Mansfield Vital Records. His marriage and the birth of his wife, Phebe Wentworth, however, do not seem to be recorded in our General Index of Connecticut Vital Records. Both records should, however, be found in New Hampshire rather than in Connecticut, it would seem to us. We suggest you communicate with the Secretary of State in whose office is the New Hampshire Vital Records index, or the New Hampshire Historical Society in Concord, New Hampshire, also.

We cannot go into extended research, hence we have no "rates" to quote. In cases requiring extended research, we refer inquirers to professional genealogists familiar with our records. We will be glad to supply the names of such persons if you wish us to do so.

Yours very truly,

James Brewster

- Notes
1. The Jan. 1937 issue of the Dartmouth Alumni Magazine speaks of John making a will and having his brothers and sisters sign a quit claim deed in favor of their mother, Mary of Mansfield Conn.
 2. Apparently Cyboanus^r was caring for the mother, who was a widow in Mansfield. See Magazine.
 3. John^r was a soldier in Bedel's Rangers in 1775. He was age 24 yrs. Credited to various quots. Died previous to Apr. 25 1777. listed as 'late of Bed. Rangers'.

Notes: Sylvanus born in Mansfield, and removed to VT. as a young man. mar. in Hanover N. H. by the Rev. Eder Burroughs. He died at Lyme New Hampshire. 1. Ethan and Isaac came to Canada before Sylvanus. I understand, Ethan went back to China, his brother Sylvanus mar. Temperance White? After she died. He came with his only daughter, Phoebe (b. 1792) (d. 1827) 2. Apparently, Isaac with Ethan, was a kind of merchant for a time and went to Ohio. See record of Isaac.

4. Sylvanus⁷ was living in Lyme 1790, Grafton Co. N.H.
with a family of 3 females.

5. His will was proved in 1800 in Grafton Co. Probate Court at Woodsville, N.H.

6. Apparently Sylvanus⁷ was living with his mother Mary in Mansfield Conn. and caring for her after she became a widow.

MRS. FRANKLIN C. THOMPSON

105 SCHOOL STREET
CONCORD, NEW HAMPSHIRE

GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH
NEW HAMPSHIRE LINES

Sept. 19, 1943

Dear Mr. Freeman,

My genealogical work was put aside for more than two months because of the illness and death of my mother.

The other day I had a chance to spend a half hour in Woodsville and here is what I found in the office of the Register of Probate. (Mr. Sawyer with whom you had corresponded is Clerk of the Court; he could have found what I did if he had cared to bother.)

Estate of Sylvanus Freeman of Lyme

1800 July 4 Phebe Freeman petitioned the court that Nathaniel Hewes be appointed administrator of her husband's estate. (There was no will, as I suspected. This gives an approximate date of his death)

July 10 Nathaniel Hewes filed his administrator's bond.

" " Inventory ordered by the court and men appointed for that purpose.

Oct. 2 Inv.- about a page in length - $176.41
1st item - 8- $\frac{1}{4}$ acres land at \$8.50 an acre last item - 1 old log house & apple trees all in the highway \$10

Oct. 13 Estate declared insolvent by N----Hewes

1801 May 26, 27, 28 Phebe Freeman filed guardianship bonds for each of the ch., Phebe, Jesse, Polly, Sylvanus, Mehitable, John, Ethan. There is no mention of age of the ch. so no way of determining the exact order. Each of these bonds, except that for Phebe which was filed the 26th was signed by Phebe, the mother, as guardian and by Nathaniel Hewes and Joseph Heaton. He did not sign the bond for Phebe, Jr. as I said. Who was he, I wonder?

These ch. must all have been under 14

June 18, N.H. as adm'r petitioned the court for permission to sell real est. to pay debts. This petition was acknowledged by Phebe as "Guardian of all the heirs."

June 13 License to sell granted by the court.

June 25 N.H. advertised the auction of 8- $\frac{1}{4}$ acres of land and $\frac{1}{3}$ of a pew in the Lyme Church.

Other papers include claims against the estate; expenses of last sickness and funeral. The doctor's bill was $15.90 which seems to indicate an illness of some length as charges went in those days.

Accounts of the Administrator :-

Personal Est. $106.29
Collected 148.45
Sale of land 48.00
" " 1/3^d pew 3.00

No mention of the sale of the "old log house and appletrees"; so Phebe must have stayed fro awhile.

Did you get a report on the 1810 census ? And did you ever hear from the Lyme Church? If not, I'll see what I can do.

The Guardians Index listed the children in the following order but that does not mean that they are in chronological order.

Phebe, Ethan, Jesse, Mehitable, Sylvanus, Polly, John

I am sorry that I did not have time to go to the land records office, but hope that I can go again before winter. If I can't I'll write the Register of Deeds and see if the index shows anything that pertains to Phebe. She could not have had much to sell, it seems. So, I doubt if there will be any transactions to record.

We have, however, an approximate date for the death of Sylvanus and the fact that he died intestate (so there was no will to be lost or destroyed); also we know that Phebe was appointed guardian of her children. I saw the original papers and Phebe could write a legible hand for she signed her name in every case.

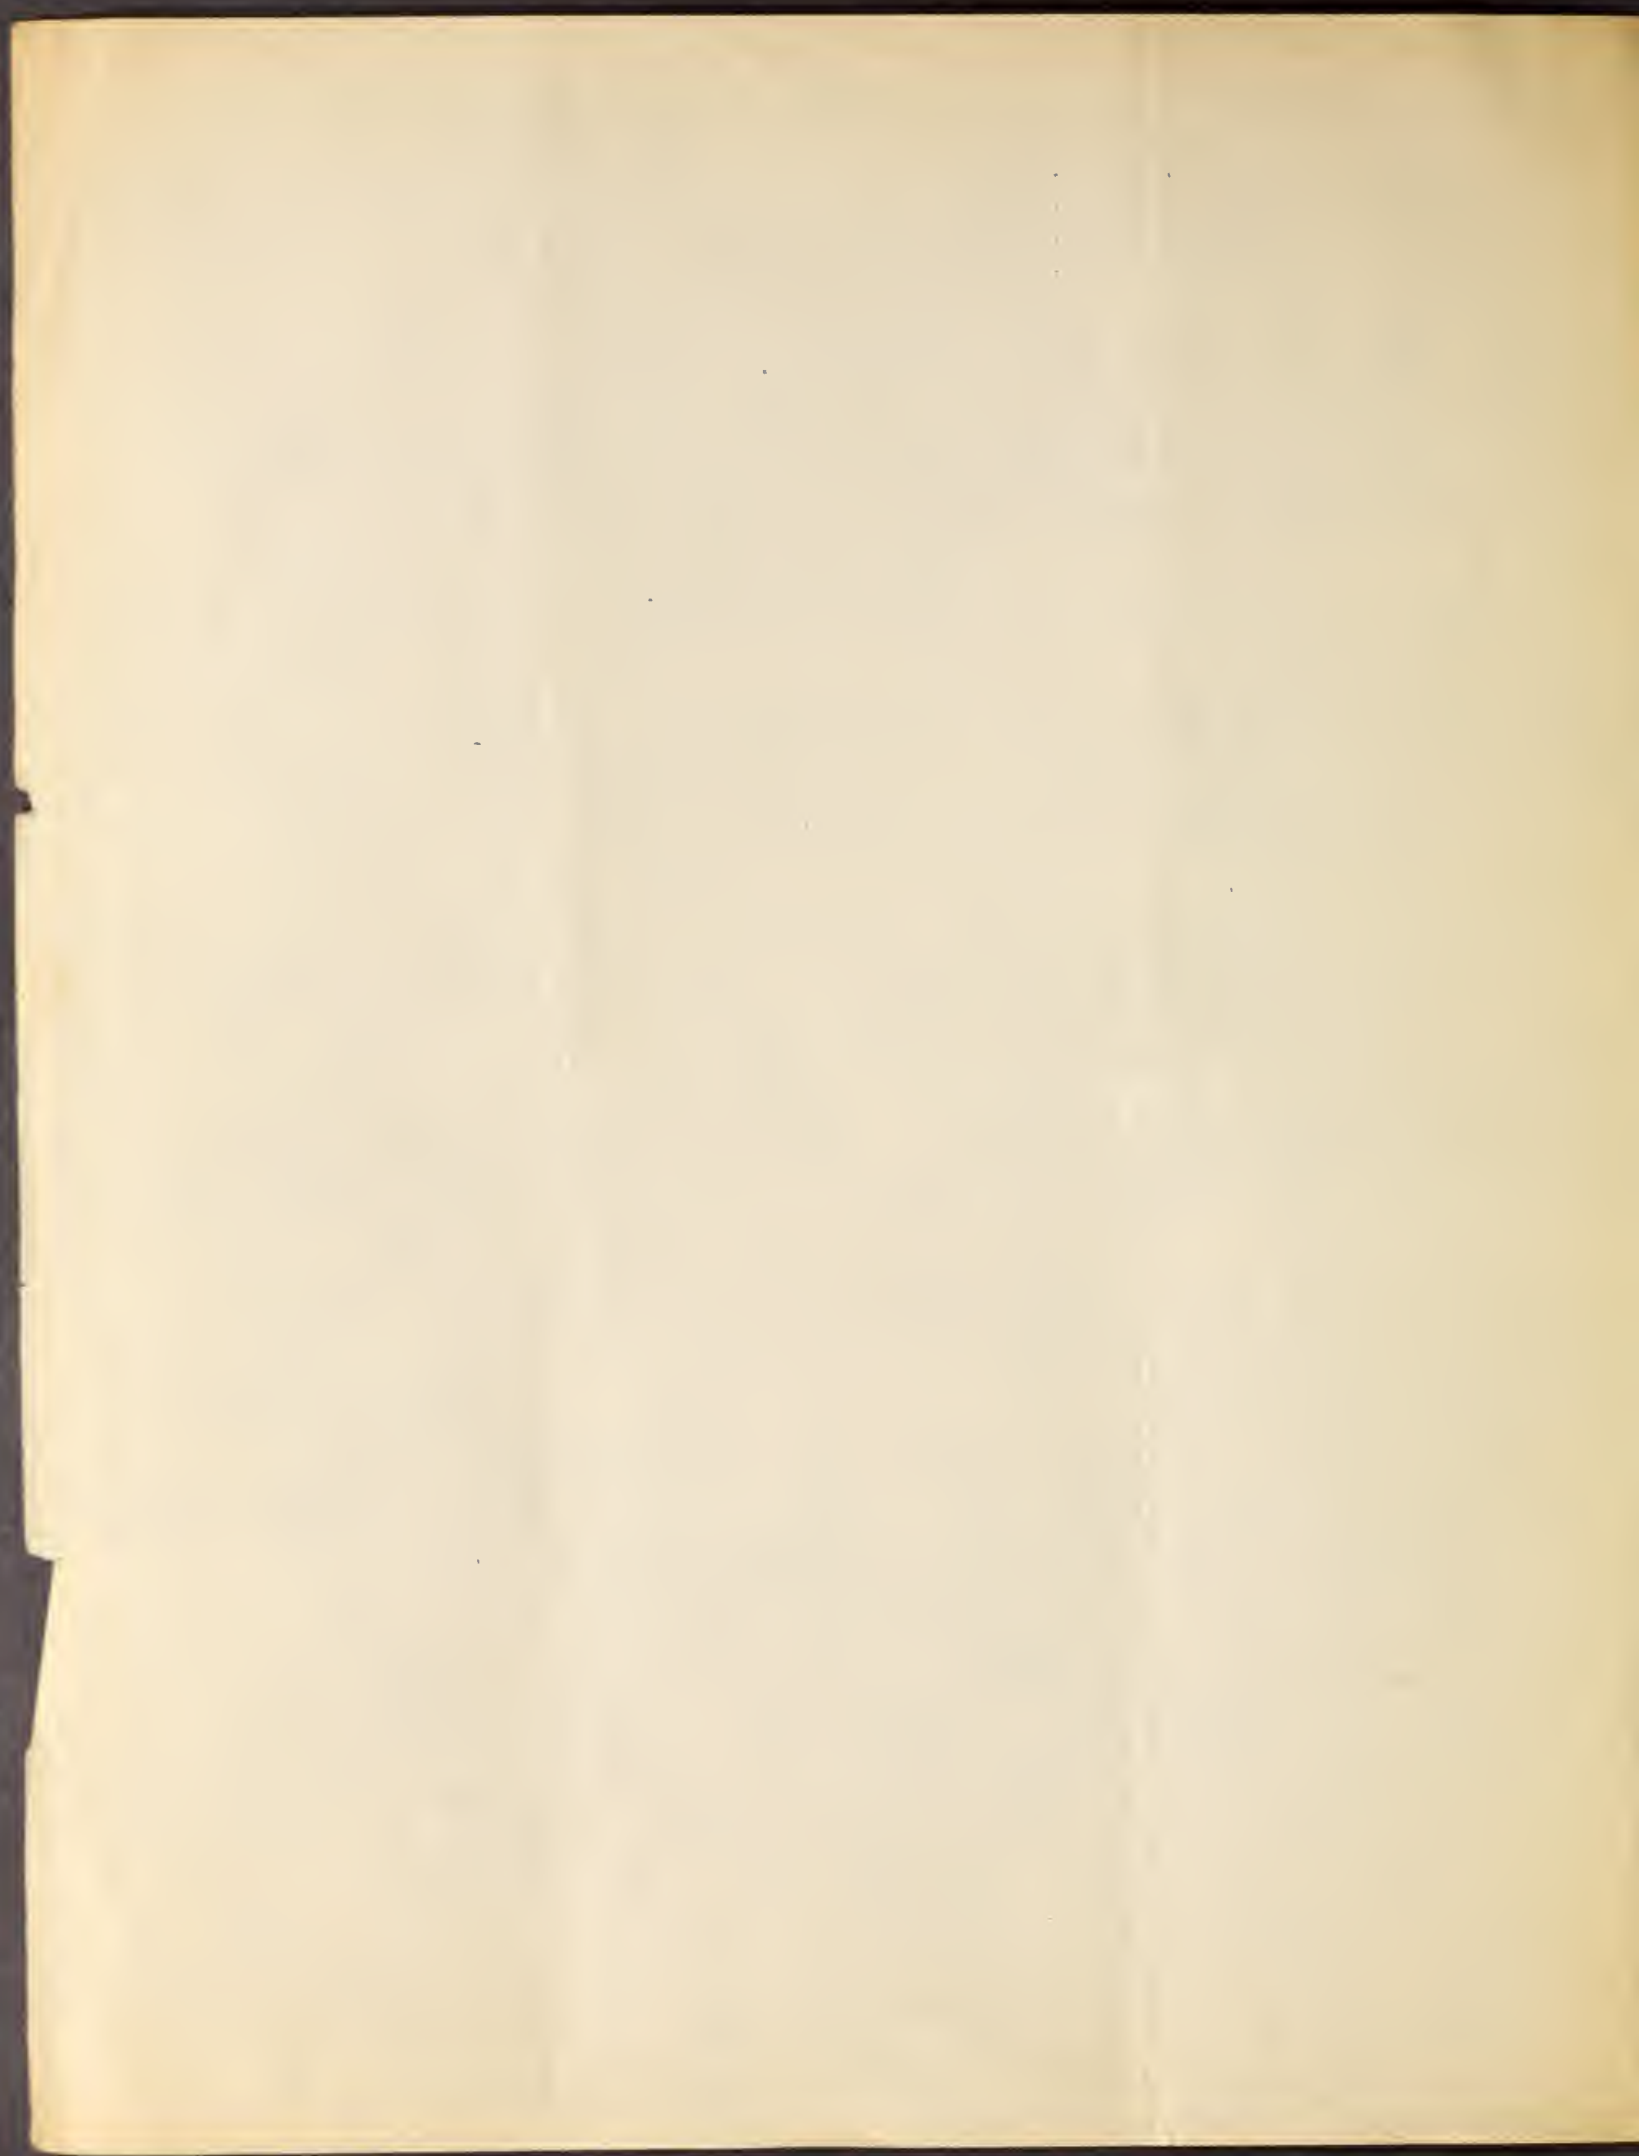

Sincerely yours,

Alice S. Thompson

P.S. Do just run over our correspondence and note:-

The 1800 census was taken after the death of Sylvanus and shows only 4 ch; 2 sons & 2 daus. But those estate papers list 7. It would seem that in the interval between the death of Sylvanus and the taking of the Census 2 of the boys and one of the girls had already been placed in other homes.

When I go again I'll gladly ^{A.S.T.} copy any of the papers if you want them.
